

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR ROTAX PRO TOUR 2011

IKD is proud to advise that we will be implementing new procedures into the 2011 Rotax Pro Tour events to ensure a level playing field for everyone in relation to tyres.

IKD is purchasing a Photo Ionisation Detector (tyre sniffer) that complies with the new AKA regulations and tyres will be checked regularly by an official at all Rotax Pro Tour events for illegal tyre treatments.

“There is constant talk and innuendo in the pits about people allegedly using tyre treatment and if anyone actually has been using it, they would be mad to try and use it at the Rotax Pro Tour next year because they will be caught,” said Ian Black from IKD.

IKD will also be using the MOJO Tyre Management Software and Bar Code scanning of tyres at all events in 2011 to ensure that each and every competitor only uses the one set of tyres for the duration of the event.

“This is a big step forward for the Rotax Pro Tour, tyres will be ‘sniffed’ and scanned constantly at random throughout each event. Tyre treatment and swapping of tyres during the event will be a thing of the past,” Ian continued.

The 2011 Rotax Pro Tour kicks off the Todd Rd track in Melbourne on January 28/29/30th...be there!

There are many benefits of the Rotax Pro Tour:-

- Less classes means more track time than any other event... more practice and more racing
- Long races (European style)
- Social events, giveaways, dinners etc at every event
- Technical checks and measures to ensure a level playing field for everyone
- 10 Australians will be invited to compete at the Rotax World Final in Dubai at the end of 2011
- Great Prizes and trophies
- Media at every event
- Widely regarded as the best events in Australia
